

The NIMBLE THIMBLE

<http://www.nbquilts.org/>

President's Message

I hope everyone enjoyed the holidays and didn't go too crazy. Aside from all the things I dislike about winter (freezing rain!!!), there is one thing I love: time to sew. It's too cold to go anywhere, and I don't have any presents to make, I can just make whatever I want. It's my most productive time of year.

Don't forget we are celebrating Halloween again (after Sandy spoiled it for us) at our Pot Luck Supper. We hope everyone comes in costume, because we will have prizes for the best one in each of these 5 categories: scariest, funniest, most original, most beautiful, and "quiltiest"! We'll provide the decorations and place settings, and you bring a dish to share. If you didn't sign up for anything in November, please bring a main dish, side dish, bread or dessert. If you email Peggy Lane, she will let you know if there are already 5 people bringing the same thing. If there is anything in your dish someone might be allergic to but wouldn't be able to recognize, please label it.

The meeting will start a half-hour earlier than usual, at 6:30 PM. If there is a threat of snow, check the website (nbquilts.org) for cancellation, or give me a call if you don't have computer access (401-438-4431). Also, please bring a canned good or two for the church's food pantry. We don't have a speaker that night, but we will have Show and Tell, so borrow some of those great quilted gifts you gave and bring them along. I hope everyone comes to this meeting, because the Pot Luck Supper is one of the best opportunities to get to know your fellow NBQA members.

Remember that even if you don't know a single person at your table, you all have the same thing in common: a love of quilting. And the food is always fabulous!

Please keep our biennial silent auction to benefit the NE Quilt Museum in mind. We are hoping everyone will donate a hand-made item (it doesn't have to be quilted, and it doesn't have to be made by you!), and the auction will be held at our May meeting. Please see Sue Stedman if you have any questions. She will be collecting the things in advance, except for perishable food items, which should be brought to the May meeting.

Peace, Joan

Next Meeting:

January 17, 2013
6:30 PM at East
Greenwich United Methodist Church

HOSPITALITY NEWS

Our Annual Pot-Luck Dinner Meeting on January 17, 2013, will have a "Let's Have Halloween Again" theme. Since the real Halloween was ruined due to inclement weather, we thought we would celebrate it all over in the new year. We will have Halloween activities--including a costume contest with prizes--and lots of candy, so please get out your Halloween finery and join in!! Our food/beverages will be themed toward Halloween/Harvest time, and we need all of you to pitch in to make the dinner a success. Some of you were able to sign up on the meal sheets that were circulated at the November meeting. For those of you who were unable to do so, please contact me and let me know what food item you will be bringing. The courses categories are: Appetizers, Salads, Entrees, Vegetables, Bread/Rolls/Butter, and Desserts. Hospitality will provide Beverages (hot and cold) and candy. It is important for you to let me know what you will be donating, so that we can make sure we have sufficient items in all categories. I will be sending a "blanket" e-mail to Club members in early January that will list all donors and their offerings. If you have questions about any of this, please contact me via e-mail or by phone. On behalf of the Hospitality Committee, I thank you for your generosity. It is all of you who make our Pot Luck Dinners a success!! Have a wonderful holiday season and new year!!

Regards,
Peggy Ann Lane, Hospitality Chair

Quilt for Change

Quilt for Change is partnering with Solar Sister of Bristol, RI to sponsor the “Light, Hope and Opportunity: Empowering Women through Clean Energy” challenge exhibition, designed to raise awareness among the quilting community of North America of energy poverty issues around the world, and to encourage support for the important work being carried out by Solar Sister in East Africa. Art quilters are encouraged to put their talents to use to highlight the energy poverty challenges faced by women and their families in rural areas with no access to regular electricity, the potential solar and other alternative energy sources have to mitigate some of these challenges, and the good work of Solar Sister in empowering African women to change the conditions of their lives. Selected quilts will be included in a traveling exhibition that will open under the auspices of the U.S. Mission to the United Nations at the UN’s European headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland in June 2013, and tour at various quilt shows throughout North America for the remainder of 2013 and beyond. Submissions are due to Quilt for Change by March 1.

See our website, quiltforchange.org, for more information and details on the challenge, or contact Allison Wilbur. Please help us spread the word about this challenge by sending to other quilters you know!

Comfort Quilts

I would like to thank all who took quilts to quilt and those who took packets of materials. I appreciate the support given.

I have more material packets to share as I have received more donations of both fabrics and orphan blocks.

January Workshop - Machine Sashiko with NBOA member Joan Halley.

Date: Thursday, January 17, 2013

Cost: $35

There are still spaces available for this class.

Sashiko is traditional Japanese embroidery done with white thread on indigo fabric. The classic designs have many applications for quilts, home dec and clothing. In this workshop you will learn to stitch the traditional designs using the sewing machine. Heavy weight thread is wound on the bobbin and the stitching is done from the back of the fabric. To start, you will learn the techniques for marking and stitching by sewing a small sample. Then you may choose the designs you like and stitch several squares that can be made into a table runner or wall hanging or become the beginning of a quilt. A large variety of designs and stencils will be available for your use. Traditional hand stitching techniques will also be demonstrated.

If you don't have internet access and would like to know what the supply list is, or if you are new and unsure of any aspect of this or any other workshop, please contact the Program Committee Steffanie Windus (Chair), Hope Barton or Judy Chase. (Contact info. is in your Membership Booklet)

General Workshop Information

Please plan to arrive at 9:00 a.m. for a 9:30 a.m. start. Please try not to be late. Classes end at 3:30 p.m. which gives everyone ½ hour to clean up and be out by 4:00 p.m.

Coffee will be provided and there will be a 45 minute lunch break. Bringing a lunch is recommended.

NEW ENGLAND QUILT MUSEUM

We hope you all had a wonderful holiday season. We wish you all a VERY HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Many new and exciting things are happening at the museum. One thing we should consider is being represented at Images best of guild display. I will explain the details at the next meeting. Also, now that you have finished your holiday projects and are looking for something to do please consider making an item for our Silent Auction in May. The Silent Auction is an in house auction and the proceeds of this auction are used to support the museum. We will accept donations of anything handmade or homemade. You have always been very supportive in the past and we are hoping for your continued generosity. The museum really does count on our support.

Do you have left over scraps from your holiday projects?

Sew mug Mats for the QUILT SHOW!

I know the quilt show isn't this year but we really need a lot of them. Remember there are prizes for the top three producers. Please remember to label your mug mats with your name and amount. The big mug will be there at the January meeting.

See the next page for directions for a Standard Mug Mat or find directions for other variations on the Forms & Bylaws button on our webpage.

Standard Mug Mats

- Cut 5 - 5" squares from fabrics of your choice.
- Fold 4 of the squares in half right side out, and press the fold.
- Place the remaining fabric square, right side up, on a 5" square of cotton batting and then:

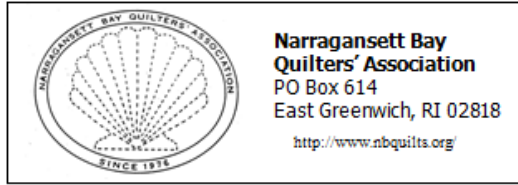

1. Lay one of the folded squares (A) on top of the unfolded square matching raw edges along the top.
2. Lay a second of the folded squares (B) (contrasting if only using 2 different fabrics for these folded rectangles) overlapping the fabric from the first square, and matching raw edges along the right edge.
3. Lay a third of the folded squares (C) (same as the first if only using 2 fabrics) overlapping the fabric from the second square and matching raw edges along the bottom edge.
4. Lay the last of the folded squares (D) (same as the second if you are only using 2 fabrics). Lift the first folded square so that the first fabric is overlapping and only one half of the folded square shows, match raw edges along the left edge. It should look like a four patch:

The extension of the fabric is shown for perspective on the way the fabrics are laid out. Do not extend your fabrics.

5. Sew a 1/4" seam along all outer edges. Clip the corners. Through the hole in the middle (this will become very clear when you have a stitched mug mat in front of you) turn the mug mat inside out. Using a point turner (or, alternatively, the point of a pair of scissors), push out the corners.
